About Me

Alexander M. Lesokhin

What I Do at MSK

- Associate Attending Physician

Get To Know Me

I am an oncologist who specializes in treating people with multiple myeloma. The increase in new treatments in the past several years makes this a very exciting time for me and other specialists who care for people with this disease. Our team offers patients the highest-quality care as well as the newest treatments through clinical trials. These research studies will improve care and increase the chance of a good outcome for all of our patients.
