Get to Know Me

I am a physician-scientist and medical oncologist specializing in the treatment of patients with gastrointestinal (GI) cancers, particularly colorectal cancer , appendiceal \(appendix\) cancer , and bile duct cancer \(cholangiocarcinoma\) . I see patients at Rockefeller Outpatient Pavilion in New York City.

I am the Section Head of Colorectal Cancer and also the founder and co-director of the Center for Young Onset Colorectal and Gastrointestinal Cancer at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK). This clinic — the first of its kind in the world — is dedicated solely to the specific needs of people under 50 who have colorectal or other GI cancers.

This research and patient care center provides coordinated and holistic care that focuses on concerns including quality of life during and after treatment , preserving fertility , and the long-term effects of surviving cancer .

Another important aim of our center is to answer the question of why cancer is becoming more prevalent in a younger generation , identify who is at risk, and how we can better screen them and prevent this cancer from occurring at such a young age. This MSK-led research has inspired centers worldwide and spurred national and international collaborations.

What I Do at MSK

I'm a gastrointestinal (GAS-troh-in-TES-tih-nul) medical oncologist, which is a cancer doctor who specializes in gastrointestinal (GI) cancers. This includes anal, colorectal, esophageal, gastric (stomach), liver, and pancreatic cancers. We also treat GI stromal tumors and neuroendocrine tumors.

Disclosures

Members of the MSK Community often work with pharmaceutical, device, biotechnology, and life sciences companies, and other organizations outside of MSK, to find safe and effective cancer treatments, to improve patient care, and to educate the health care community. These activities outside of MSK further our mission, provide productive collaborations, and promote the practical application of scientific discoveries.

MSK requires doctors, faculty members, and leaders to report ("disclose") the relationships and financial interests they have with external entities. As a commitment to transparency with our community, we make that information available to the public. Not all disclosed interests and relationships present conflicts of interest. MSK reviews all disclosed interests and relationships to assess whether a conflict of interest exists and whether formal COI management is needed.
