Get to Know Me

I am a board-certified hematologist with special training in using stem cell transplantation and cellular therapy to treat blood cancers such as lymphoma, leukemia, and multiple myeloma. Stem cell transplants are a type of treatment in which new stem cells replace unhealthy cells in the blood.

I work as part of a team of experts in transplantation and cellular therapy who treat people with these blood cancers. I treat not just the disease, but also the person. Our patients benefit from a team of many experts from different specialties. This includes physicians, nurses, advanced practice providers, pharmacists, social workers, and other staff. I see patients at the David H. Koch Center for Cancer Care at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center \(MSK\) and at Memorial Hospital in New York City, at MSK Nassau on Long Island, and MSK Basking Ridge in New Jersey.

My research includes developing new approaches for transplantation and cellular therapy to improve treatment results for people with lymphoma and leukemia.

Before returning to MSK, I served as director of the Blood and Marrow Transplant Program at Cleveland Clinic. I currently serve Medical Director of the Regional Network for MSK's Division of Hematologic Malignancies. In this role, I aim to extend our transplant and cellular therapy services to MSK's regional network in collaboration with MSK's Care Partners.

Disclosures

Members of the MSK Community often work with pharmaceutical, device, biotechnology, and life sciences companies, and other organizations outside of MSK, to find safe and effective cancer treatments, to improve patient care, and to educate the health care community. These activities outside of MSK further our mission, provide productive collaborations, and promote the practical application of scientific discoveries.

MSK requires doctors, faculty members, and leaders to report ("disclose") the relationships and financial interests they have with external entities. As a commitment to transparency with our community, we make that information available to the public. Not all disclosed interests and relationships present conflicts of interest. MSK reviews all disclosed interests and relationships to assess whether a conflict of interest exists and whether formal COI management is needed.

Craig S. Sauter discloses the following relationships and financial interests:

- CRISPR Therapeutics AG
Professional Services and Activities
- Ono Pharma

If you're a patient at MSK and would like more information about your doctor's external relationships, please talk with your doctor.

The information published here is a complement to other publicly reported data and is for a specific annual disclosure period. There may be differences between information on this and other public sites as a result of different reporting periods and/or the various ways relationships and financial interests are categorized by organizations that publish such data.

This page and data include information for a specific MSK annual disclosure period (January 1, 2024 through disclosure submission in spring 2025). This data reflects interests that may or may not still exist. This data is updated annually.
