About Me

What I Do at MSK

- Interim Chief, Breast Imaging Service
- Head, Breast Imaging Quality Assurance

Get To Know Me

I am a radiologist with expertise in breast imaging and oncologic body computed tomography \(CT\) scans. Imaging procedures support our ability to make timely, accurate diagnoses and select the appropriate treatments for patients, based on the results. At Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK), I interpret the full range of imaging modalities used in the screening and diagnosis of breast cancer, such as mammograms (including digital breast tomosynthesis, also known as “3-D mammography”), sonograms, and magnetic resonance imaging \(MRI\).

As a breast imager, I also perform image-guided interventional procedures. These include stereotactic biopsy, ultrasound-guided biopsy, MRI-guided biopsy, radioactive seed placement, and wire localization. Finally, in addition to my clinical focus on breast imaging, I interpret CT scans and radiographs of the body.
