

Ready to start planning your care? Call us at 800-525-2225 to make an appointment.

×

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

Make an Appointment

Back

About Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center & Treatment

Learn About Cancer & Treatment

Understanding Peripheral Neuropathy Associated with Chemotherapy

ABOUT US

Our mission, vision & core values

Leadership

History

Inclusion & belonging

Annual report

Give to MSK

toes. Less commonly, chemotherapy can affect nerves that control movement and autonomic (internal) functions.

Motor symptoms may include weakness, muscle cramps, and muscle fatigue. People with autonomic nerve damage may become dizzy when sitting or standing up, or may experience urinary or bowel symptoms, blood pressure changes, or irregular heartbeat.

© 2026 Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center