About Me

What I Do at MSK

- Medical Director, Integrative Medicine Service

Get To Know Me

I am an integrative medicine specialist who strives to inspire and empower people with cancer to make themselves strong in body, mind, and spirit. I incorporate some Eastern medicine approaches that are supported by scientific evidence and focus on nutrition, physical activity, stress management, sleep, and circadian rhythms. I advise patients on the proper use of herbs and dietary supplements so that they may experience potential benefits while avoiding harm.

I lead the Integrative Medicine Clinical Program at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center and work closely with a team of highly professional therapists who provide acupuncture, massage therapy, mind-body therapies, yoga, qigong, exercise regimens, and music therapy — all tailored to the needs of cancer patients and survivors.

Disclosures

Doctors and faculty members often work with pharmaceutical, device, biotechnology, and life sciences companies, and other organizations outside of MSK, to find safe and effective cancer treatments, to improve patient care, and to educate the health care community.

MSK requires doctors and faculty members to report (“disclose”) the relationships and financial interests they have with external entities. As a commitment to transparency with our community, we make that information available to the public.

Gary E. Deng discloses the following relationships and financial interests:
