About Me

What I Do at MSK

- Elliot W. Strong Chair in Head and Neck Oncology

Get To Know Me

After more than 40 years of extensive surgical experience in all types of tumors in the head and neck — including mouth, throat, larynx, sinuses, skull base, thyroid, salivary glands, skin, soft tissues, and bone tumors — I now no longer perform surgery. However, I do provide consultations to patients to discuss treatment options, the pros and cons of various surgical approaches, as well as non-surgical treatments, and the expected outcomes in terms of tumor control and quality of life.

I will then provide recommendations and referrals to the most appropriate specialist for their specific problem. Such consultation permits the patient to make an informed decision regarding their treatment at MSK.

My Role at MSK

A head and neck surgeon is a doctor with special training in surgery on the head and neck. This includes the larynx, lips, mouth, nose, salivary glands, and throat.

Disclosures

Doctors and faculty members often work with pharmaceutical, device, biotechnology, and life sciences companies, and other organizations outside of MSK, to find safe and effective cancer treatments, to improve patient care, and to educate the health care community.

MSK requires doctors and faculty members to report ("disclose") the relationships and financial interests they have with external entities. As a commitment to transparency with our community, we make that information available to the public.

Jatin P. Shah discloses the following relationships and financial interests:

No disclosures meeting criteria for time period

If you're a patient at MSK and would like more information about your doctor's external relationships, please talk with your doctor.

The information published here is for a specific annual disclosure period. There may be differences between information on this and other public sites as a result of different reporting periods and/or the various ways relationships and financial interests are categorized by organizations that publish such data.

This page and data include information for a specific MSK annual disclosure period (January 1, 2022 through disclosure submission in spring 2023). This data reflects interests that may or may not still exist. This data is updated annually.
