About Me

What I Do at MSK

- Associate Attending Pathologist

Get To Know Me

I am a board-certified pathologist and cytopathologist with a special interest and training in breast pathology. I analyze breast tissue biopsies and surgical specimens in order to determine a diagnosis that will help guide treatment options for our patients. I enjoy being part of a team who strives to practice diagnostic pathology at the highest level. As an active member of the Global Cancer Disparities Initiatives group at MSK, I lead the efforts to establish quality pathology services in low-to-middle income countries. By developing professional and research collaborations in capacity building projects, I am able to secure effective pathology services, which is essential for cancer care in those countries.

My Role at MSK

A pathologist is a doctor who uses a microscope to make a diagnosis from cell and tissue samples. They analyze the samples to learn the cause and effects of a health condition.

Disclosures

Doctors and faculty members often work with pharmaceutical, device, biotechnology, and life sciences companies, and other organizations outside of MSK, to find safe and effective cancer treatments, to improve patient care, and to educate the health care community.

MSK requires doctors and faculty members to report ("disclose") the relationships and financial interests they have with external entities. As a commitment to transparency with our community, we make that information available to the public.

Marcia Edelweiss discloses the following relationships and financial interests:

No disclosures meeting criteria for time period

If you're a patient at MSK and would like more information about your doctor's external relationships, please talk with your doctor.

The information published here is for a specific annual disclosure period. There may be differences between information on this and other public sites as a result of different reporting periods and/or the various ways relationships and financial interests are categorized by organizations that publish such data.

This page and data include information for a specific MSK annual disclosure period (January 1, 2022 through disclosure submission in spring 2023). This data reflects interests that may or may not still exist. This data is updated annually.
