

PATIENT & CAREGIVER EDUCATION

Mindfulness

People who have been treated for cancer often experience ongoing worry, anxiety, and fears of recurrence. In this lecture, we will review the research and teach brief mindfulness practices that can be used to interrupt cycles of anxiety and worry.

Audience

This program is open to the community.