

Returning to Work After Cancer

Managing employment after you finish treatment for cancer can bring up unique challenges. This presentation will cover the major practical concerns that arise when dealing with cancer in the workplace. Whether you are looking for a new job after treatment or needing additional accommodations, this session will provide information to help you take your next steps.

Audience

This program is for people who have been treated for cancer and their caregivers.