This information explains how to take oral medications to prevent, treat, or control cancer. Oral medications are medications you take by mouth, such as pills or tablets.

Be sure to tell all your healthcare providers, including your dentist and your pharmacist, that you’re taking medication for cancer.

What are some ways to help me remember to take my cancer medications?

Oral medication for cancer will only work if you take it exactly the way your healthcare provider prescribed it. To be sure you take it correctly, use a system that works for you, such as:

- Keeping a pill diary
- Using a calendar or daily medication checklist
- Using a pillbox only for your oral medication for cancer. Don’t keep any of your other medication in that pillbox.
- Setting electronic reminders using:
  - Cell phone alarms
  - Alarm clocks
  - Timers
  - Smartphone applications, such as Mobile MyMSK
If you’re not sure what system will work well for you, talk with your healthcare provider and a friend or family member who can help you.

What should I know about taking my cancer medication safely?

- Wash your hands for at least 20 seconds before and after you touch your medication.
- If you’re a caregiver, wear gloves when you touch these medications and wash your hands afterward.
- Don’t crush, chew, or cut your medication unless you were told to do so.
- If each dose is in a separate package, such as foil packaging, don’t open the package until it’s time to take it.

What do I do if I miss a dose?

- If it has been 2 hours or less since the time you were supposed to take your medication, take it.
- If it has been more than 2 hours since you were supposed to take it, call your healthcare provider’s office.
- Don’t take 2 doses at the same time.
- Don’t take any extra doses.
- If you vomit (throw up) the medication, call your healthcare provider’s office. Don’t take another dose.

How do I store and throw out my cancer medication?

- Store your medication at room temperature (unless you’re given other instructions).
- Store your medication in a dry place. Don’t store it in a bathroom.
- Keep the medication somewhere safe and away from children and pets.
• Ask your pharmacist or healthcare provider how to throw out any medications you don’t use.

How can I make sure all my healthcare providers know what medications I take?

Always carry a list of all of the medications that you take with you. Include your medication for cancer and all prescription and over-the-counter medications (medications you buy without a prescription), supplements, and creams. For every medication and supplement, include:

• The name of the medication
• How much you take
• How you take it (such as by mouth or a shot)
• When you take it
• Why you take it (such as what type of cancer you have)

If you need help making this list, tell your healthcare provider. If you’re taking oral chemotherapy, bring it with you in the original prescription bottle when you see your healthcare provider. Your healthcare provider will tell you if you need to bring it to the hospital if you’re admitted. Don’t bring any other medications with you unless told by your healthcare provider.

Call Your Healthcare Provider:

• If you’re running low on your medication, you must call your healthcare provider’s office at least 5 business days (Monday through Friday) before you will run out. This is so your healthcare provider can send a refill to your pharmacy.
• Before stopping or changing your medication for any reason.
• If you’re having trouble getting your medication from the pharmacy.
• If you’re having trouble paying for your medication.
• If you take more medication than what your healthcare provider
• If you missed a dose of your medication and it’s been more than 2 hours.
• If you’re having any new symptoms or side effects. Your healthcare provider will give you information about what to look for.
• If you have any questions about how to take this medication.

For more information about taking your medication, review the medication handout your healthcare provider gave you. If you have any questions or concerns, call your healthcare provider’s office.
