Treatment to Transplant: Making Informed Choices About Stem Cell Transplantation

Please join The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society for a free virtual education program for patients and their families.

When diagnosed with blood cancer, treatment options may include a bone marrow or stem cell transplant. The pathway to transplant is unique and depends on many factors. Expert speakers will share their knowledge and expertise about what determines the need for a transplant, as well as the types of transplants, phases of the process, risks, side effects, post-transplant care, and more. Attendees will also learn about resources available in their local community and those provided by The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.

This event takes place on Tuesday, May 25, from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., Eastern Time.
