FOR THE MEDIA

MSK can offer you a unique level of surgical care, with experts dedicated solely to the surgical treatment of women with ovarian cancer.

Recent enhancements have also been made to chemotherapy regimens, such as intraperitoneal chemotherapy, and in finding immune system therapies. And we have numerous clinical trials for ovarian cancer underway at any given time, which means you might well have treatment options with us that aren't available elsewhere.

Developing a Care Plan for You

As an MSK patient, you will be cared for by a team of experts in surgery, medical oncology, pathology, and other areas, who meet regularly to discuss your treatment plan. Including specialists from different specialties – in addition to your one or two primary doctors – ensures that we consider all possible options for you, and that you receive the best possible care for your individual needs.

And as part of a comprehensive cancer center, at MSK you and your family will have access to counseling and other supportive services.
