FOR THE MEDIA

Neurosurgical Oncology Cranial Fellowship

For the 2027–2028 fellowship cycle, the American Association of Neurological Surgeons (AANS)/Congress of Neurological Surgeons (CNS) Joint Tumor Section, in collaboration with the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP), will implement a formal match process for all CAST-accredited neurosurgical oncology fellowship programs. The Neurosurgical Oncology Fellowship Match will open for registration on February 11, 2026.

Applicants who have already submitted materials to our program will still be interviewed on October 6, 2025. Any applicants still wishing to apply should submit their applications using the Embark Application portal. We plan to offer an additional interview date in the winter to accommodate applicants given the new application cycle timeline. Based on agreements amongst all CAST-accredited fellowships and the AANS/CNS Joint Tumor Section, final fellowship offers will be extended exclusively through the match with results announced on May 13, 2026.

Eligibility

The neurosurgical fellowship is available to candidates who have completed the core residency training in neurosurgery and who are in excellent standing at their institution. We do not allow enfolded fellowships. We encourage applications from trainees who are interested in developing an academic career in neuro-oncology. Applicants must be eligible for a New York State medical license and must obtain the license prior to beginning the fellowship. To obtain a New York State medical license, candidates are required to have had three years of residency training in the United States or Canada. Foreign applicants must have passed the ECFMG or FMGEMS, as well as the FLEX exams.

Length of Program

One year for the clinical track.

If accepted to do research, the fellow is encouraged to spend 2 years of research time in a laboratory of their choice at MSK.
