I am a Clinical Supervisor and Manager and I oversee Resources for Life After Cancer, a resource and counseling program for adult cancer survivors. I have a particular interest in cancer survivorship, recognizing and supporting family caregivers and understanding how patients and families experience vulnerability and adversity during illness. I graduated from Columbia University School of Social Work with a Master of Science and have a post master's fellowship training in Gestalt Psychotherapy. I joined Memorial Sloan Kettering in 1998 with extensive experience in both ambulatory and inpatient settings.
