Responsibilities include performing gross pathologic and histopathologic examinations of a variety of laboratory animal species (mice, rats, hamsters, rabbits, guinea pigs, pigs, non-human primates, fish, amphibians), interpreting anatomic and clinical pathology results, preparing reports, and communicating with clinical veterinarians and research personnel. Scientific collaborations and publications are encouraged. Supervision by 3 board-certified pathologists (ACVP and/or ECVP) is provided. The fellow participates in didactic activities held jointly with the Tri-Institutional Training Program in Laboratory Animal Medicine & Science, including Histopathology and Gross Pathology Rounds, Clinical and Pathology Conference, Laboratory Animal Medicine Seminar Series, and Journal Club.

Applicants must possess a DVM/VMD from an AVMA-accredited or equivalent institution and have completed at least 2 years of anatomic pathology residency training. Salary is based on the NIH post-doctoral scale and commensurate with experience. The start date is on October 1st of each year and the application deadline is April 1st.

Applicants should submit a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, veterinary education transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. Application materials and questions should be addressed to:
