About Me

Yasmin Khakoo

What I Do at MSK

- Director, Child Neurology Program

Get To Know Me

I am a board-certified pediatric neurologist and neuro-oncologist on the MSK Kids team who cares for children and young adults with primary brain tumors. As Director of the MSK Kids Child Neurology Program, I have a special interest in the prevention and treatment of nervous system complications in young patients receiving treatment for these tumors and other cancers. My goal is to help preserve neurologic and cognitive function (thinking abilities) in children with cancer so that when therapy is completed, a child can return to school and their family and resume a normal life. I consider myself a guardian of my patients' nervous systems, and I want them to survive and thrive to be the best they can be.

Along with my colleagues in the Brain Tumor Center at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK), I am involved in several clinical trials. We are evaluating novel approaches to treat people who have been newly diagnosed with brain tumors or who have brain tumors that have come back after earlier treatment.
