In a videotaped interview, Ms. Roberts said, "He has an exuberance, he's funny...and he's the best at what he does...". He researched, he studied, I really appreciated our discussions about clinical trials and how he was very clear about wanting me to participate if I was comfortable... I hope that through The Foundation and through the work that I do that we can shine a light and let people have a better understanding of what it's like to walk this path."
