

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

African Research Group for Oncology

Nigerian Cancer Research Training (NCAT) program

Clinical Research Scholars

Biography Book

2021-22

Dr. Habiba Ibrahim Abdullahi

Dr. Habiba Ibrahim Abdullahi is a Senior Lecturer at the College of Health Sciences, University of Abuja and an Honorary consultant at the University of Abuja Teaching hospital. She is a fellow of the West African College of Surgeons, faculty of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Her post-graduate work focused on gynaecological Oncology. She has been involved in cancer research since her residency through collaboration with her colleagues both locally and internationally. Her primary research interests are in cervical, ovarian and endometrial cancers as these three make up a large percentage of the gynaecological cancer burden in Nigeria. She is also interested in urogynaecology.

Email: ibrahimhabiba@yahoo.com

Dr Adekunle Adedapo Abiodun

Dr Adekunle Adedapo Abiodun is a Consultant General Surgeon at the Federal medical Centre, Bida, Niger state, Nigeria. He had his MBBS in 2005 from Ladoke Akintola University of Technology, Ogbomoso, in Oyo State. He became a Fellow of the West African College of Surgeons in 2019. His quest for knowledge and improvement of his surgical skills led him to getting a laparoscopic training in India where he obtained a Diploma in Minimal Access Surgery. He is a member African Research Group for Oncology (ARGO), Nigeria Surgical Research Society (NSRS) and other professional bodies.

His research interest includes both benign and malignant general surgical conditions. He has had publications in peer review journals.

His goal is to improve his surgical skills and knowledge with the aim of improving patients' outcome as well as remaining committed to academic research.

Email: abiodunkunle2012@hotmail.com

Mrs. Temidayo Olatinbo Awwiuro

Mrs. Temidayo Olatinbo Awwiuro is a Registered Nurse, Registered Midwife and a Registered Public Health Nurse. She obtained her Bachelor of Nursing degree and Master's degree (MSc. Nursing, Medical/Surgical Nursing specialty) from Department of Nursing Science, Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife. She's a clinical instructor at School of Nursing OAUTHC, a preceptor at Department of Nursing Science, OAU and an online tutor at Centre for Distance Learning, OAU. She is an Assistant Director Nursing Services and a ward leader in OAUTHC, actively involved in research.

Email: rukewe09@yahoo.com

Dr. Bola-Oyebamiji Sekinah B

Dr. Bola- Oyebamiji Sekinah B had her undergraduate medical studies at the prestigious University of Ibadan. She is a Fellow of the West Africa College of Surgeons and the National Postgraduate Medical College of Nigeria (faculty of Obstetrics and Gynaecology).

She is a Lecturer at Osun State University, Osogbo and an Honourary Consultant at Uniosun Teaching Hospital (formerly LAUTECH Teaching Hospital), Osogbo. Her core areas of Interest are Gynaecologic Oncology and Urogynaecology.

She is a member of various professional bodies such as International Gynecologic Society (IGCS); an associate member of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RCOG), a Sexual and Reproductive Health Champion and a Community Leader. She is a keen researcher and has publications in peer-reviewed journals.

Email: sbolaoyebamiji@gmail.com

Dr. Ngozi Regina Dim

Dr Ngozi R. Dim is a Senior Lecturer, in the Department of Radiation Medicine, College of Medicine, University of Nigeria. She is also an honorary Consultant Radiologist in University of Nigeria Teaching Hospital (UNTH), Enugu. She graduated in 2003 with a Bachelor's degree in Medicine and Surgery, from the University of Nigeria. She later obtained a Master's degree in Public Health, just before undertaking her residency programme in Radiology, at U.N.T.H. Enugu. Dr Dim has a bias in Women and Paediatric Imaging, and interested in interventional radiology, especially image guided biopsies. She has a number of publications and conference paper presentations in these areas of interest.

Aside clinical work, she has a passion for advocacy against Non-Communicable Diseases, especially cancers. Hence, over the years, Dr Dim has volunteered services in NGOs and professional bodies, giving health education and screening participants for breast, cervical and prostate cancers, in several awareness and screening programs. She is a member of several professional bodies, including the Radiological Society of North America, where she was a recipient of the 2015 RSNA Introduction to Research for International Young Academics (IRIYA) Award. Her hobbies include traveling, music, and reading inspiring books.

Email: ngozi.dim@unn.edu.ng

Dr. Olurotimi Komolafe

Dr. Olurotimi Komolafe (BSc, MBBS, FWACS) is a consultant diagnostic radiologist at Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospital, Ile-Ife, Nigeria. He has special interest in pediatric imaging, with a research focus on pediatric solid tumors. He looks forward to participating in the NCAT program and views this as an opportunity to build his research career on a solid foundation that will enable him to use research as a tool to roll back childhood diseases and cancers. In the long term, he looks forward to mentoring the next generation of researchers that will further extend the frontiers of science, and defeat disease. In his spare time, he enjoys playing chess and reading about outer space expeditions.

Email: rfkomo@gmail.com

Dr. Mohammed, Tajudeen Olakunle

Mohammed, Tajudeen Olakunle, FMCS, is a General Surgeon. He had his early medical education at from the Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife, Nigeria where he obtained MBCh.B degree and had his residency training for fellowship in general surgery at Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospitals Complex (OAUTHC), Ile-Ife. He has interest in oncology, minimal access surgery, teaching and research.

He currently is a consultant general surgeon at the Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospitals Complex, where he also teaches medical students and participate in the training of surgery residents. He is passionate about improving the quality of patient's care and access to care and seeks to be a quintessential global researcher and an effective teacher and clinician.

Email: mohdfanon@gmail.com

Dr. Chizoma Millicent Ndikom

Dr Chizoma Millicent Ndikom is Senior Lecturer in the Department of Nursing, College of Medicine, University of Ibadan. Obtained Bachelors, Masters of Science degrees in both Nursing and Medical Sociology and Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Nursing, from the University of Ibadan. Her specialty area is maternal and child health nursing with focus on early detection measures for the prevention of cervical cancer. Has served as a Principal Investigator and Co-Investigator for various studies.

Had an International Postdoctoral Fellowship in Nursing Award, sponsored jointly by INDEN and Sigma Theta Tau International (STTI) United States of America at Warwick University Coventry, UK in 2017. Has participated in organizing various Nursing Research workshops as Education and Research Committee member for Nursing Department. Also a Resource person for the Nursing and Midwifery Council of Nigeria Mandatory Continuous Professional Development Programme. Also Chizoma is a facilitator for West African College of Nursing Primaries Programme.

She has published several articles in various peer reviewed journals. She is a member of Cochrane Collaboration, pregnancy and childbirth group, Oncology Nursing Society, Sigma Teta Tau (Honors Society of Nursing), African Organization for Research & Training in Cancer (AORTIC) among others. She teaches Midwifery, Reproductive Health, Neonatal Nursing, Child and Adolescent Health at Undergraduate and Post graduate levels. Has supervised several Undergraduate and Post Graduate students.

Email: cmndikom@gmail.com

Dr. Lloba Gabriel Njokanma

Dr. Iloba Gabriel Njokanma is a General Surgeon in Lagos, Nigeria with a keen interest in Colorectal and Breast Oncological research. He had his initial research training at the Principles and Practice of Clinical Research, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health ECPE where he is currently a Teaching Assistant. He is a Fellow of the Medical College of Surgeons, an Associate Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the African Research Group for Oncology (ARGO).

Email: lobsky2001@yahoo.co.uk

Dr. Oluwatosin Omoyiola

Oluwatosin Omoyiola is a Pathologist. She obtained her Bachelor's degree in Medicine and Surgery from Obafemi Awolowo University in February 2008 and completed my residency training at Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospitals Complex, Ile Ife obtaining a fellowship in Pathology.

She is currently employed as a Consultant Pathologist at the Department of Morbid Anatomy and Forensic Medicine, Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospitals Complex, Ile-Ife where she provides tissue diagnosis on accessioned specimens as well as provide information on the grade, stage and other prognostic factors that impact disease progression and patient care.

She is interested in breast, colorectal and prostate cancer especially in terms of their tumour biology and how this understanding can impact individualized patient care. She is also intrigued by the prospects that Digital Pathology can improve and standardize Surgical Pathology practice.

Email: bionic6ng@gmail.com

Dr. Nnamdi Orah

Nnamdi is a medical specialist (histopathology and oncology training) with a unique global background on the frontlines of the fight against cancer in Nigeria and Sub-Saharan Africa. Apart from being involved in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer patients, He designs and implements research into early diagnostic and more effective treatment models as well as improved access to oncology care for underserved populations.

He is currently employed as a Consultant Pathologist/Lecturer with the College of Medicine of the University of Lagos.

Email: orah.nnamdi@gmail.com